

Gov. Roosevelt Submits Power Development Plan

Favors Development of Hydroelectric Resources Of St. Lawrence by State Through Board of Trustees, With Distribution Through Private Corporation, Withholding Rate Regulation Power From Public Service Commission Action.

Albany, March 12 (AP).—Development of the hydroelectric resources of the St. Lawrence river by the state through a board of trustees and distribution of power by a private corporation today was proposed to the legislature by Governor Roosevelt.

The governor, appearing before a joint session to read his water-power message, recommended a board of five members "composed of men in whom there is great public confidence, such as former Governor Charles Evans Hughes and former Governor Alfred E. Smith." The governor would withhold rate regulation from the action of the public service commission, which he said was restrained by federal court rulings to the point of being ineffective, and would seek regulatory action through the terms of contracts granted by the trustees to the distributing company.

Discussing the question of what agency should transmit and distribute power generated by the state, the governor said:

"I follow, I think, the opinion of my distinguished predecessor in saying that because of the complications involved, the actual operation of a transmission system or a distribution system in this field of activity should, if possible, with safety to the people, be undertaken by private enterprise, and that the state should undertake it only if private enterprise proves that it cannot or will not successfully carry out the task."

Legislative Approval Required.

The board, at its inception, would constitute a planning and negotiating commission, charged to report to the legislature by January 15, 1920, a definite plan and contract. The plan would require legislative approval, the governor said, and the approval would in effect place upon the board the duty of executing the plan.

"These trustees," the governor said, "would examine into the engineering phases of the problem and bring in figures as to the practicability and the cost, and would, of course, secure the aid of the best impartial experts available. They would confer with the various federal authorities, with the international joint commission, and through proper constitutional channels with the government of Canada and its provinces for the purpose of advising the legislature what definite steps should be taken by treaty, federal legislation, or otherwise, to secure complete cooperation."

"They would confer with representatives of existing or prospective distributors of electric power for the purpose of arranging by contract for the sale of St. Lawrence power, to the ultimate consumer after allowing a fair and reasonable return on actual capital investment."

Must Conform to Basic Principles.

"In other words, I propose that the trustees should bring in a complete plan for the development of the state's water resources on the St. Lawrence and that this plan should conform to a definite statement of two basic principles which I believe to be the policy desired by a great majority of our citizens."

"These two basic principles are: The natural waterpower sites of the St. Lawrence now owned by the people of the state or hereafter to be recovered, shall remain ever inalienable to the people, and any dams or plants necessary to generate power shall be built, financed, owned, operated and occupied by the trustees as the duly constituted instrumentality of the state."

"Power developed therefrom shall be transmitted and distributed, if possible, through employment of private capital so as to secure adequate distribution throughout the state. This distribution, however, shall secure the lowest rates to consumers compatible with a fair and reasonable return on actual cash investment. The rates, in other words, shall be based on actual cash outlay, that is to say operating expenses, capital outlay, representing money actually spent in plant investment and working capital, with reasonable allowance for obsolescence and depreciation, and a return on the investment not exceeding the interest actually paid on borrowed money and dividend rates not in excess of current rates and preferred stock, and not to exceed eight per cent on all other cash capital."

Between Power House and Consumer.

"In other words, the power generated by the agency of the state, called the trustees, shall be sold only on a contract basis which will take into definite consideration all the steps between the sale at the power house and the ultimate sale

Street Work in City Will Start First of April

Work Cannot be Commenced Before That Time as the Binding Material Used Can Only be Laid in Warm Weather, Board of Public Works States.

At the office of the board of public works in the Municipal Building this morning it was stated that plans had been completed to take care of street work as soon as weather conditions permit. A survey had been made by Mayor E. J. Dempsey and members of the board and, while much repair work is necessary, the streets, in the main, were in fairly good shape. Broadway and access streets will, of course, receive first attention.

It was further stated that it would be useless and a waste of time and money to attempt any repair work before the first of April, as the binding material used is not effective in other than warm weather, and to put it in now would mean that work would have to be done again.

Bankruptcy for Kaiser's Sister

Bonn, Germany, March 12 (AP).—Bankruptcy proceedings were instituted today against Princess Victoria, sister of the former Kaiser.

Circles close to the princess were not surprised at the turn of events as they knew that Alexander Subkoff, since his marriage to her had regularly taken large sums from her.

She first divested herself of all her cash resources to meet his bills and hush scandal and then rented parts of her palace. Finally, it was reported, she even began to sell the famous jewels of her grandmother, Queen Victoria of England.

"Vicky" was the favorite granddaughter of the British queen who will be the greatest part of a jewel collection which she spent years in bringing together.

According to talk in former court circles the latest method of Subkoff to extort money was a threat to write a movie scenario in which his courtship, marriage and relationship to the Hohenzollerns would be depicted in an objectionable manner.

Since the marriage of Princess Victoria to Alexander Subkoff, Russian, 34 years her junior, her young husband's escapades, which had a wide range from excessive drinking to cafe brawling, attracted wide attention.

There were various stories as to his origin, some indicating wealthy extraction, another story saying that he was the son of a cobbler, and another that he had been a Paris dance hall "Gigolo."

After their marriage he was frequently arrested and was ordered out of both Germany and Belgium.

She was 61 at the time of their marriage on October 12, 1927. He was 27.

Cities Authorized To Buy Terminals

Albany, March 12. (Special).—Governor Roosevelt today signed the Webb bill to authorize a sale of certain lands owned by the state at Kingston, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Yonkers which were heretofore acquired by the state for barge canal terminals, and also authorizing the purchase and sale of these lands by such cities and the issuance of city obligations.

Jury Unable to Agree on Verdict

In Action Brought By Grace E. Bailey Against The L. B. Van Wagenen Company—Action To Recover For Services Taken Up.

When Supreme court convened at 10 o'clock this morning the jury in the action brought by Grace E. Bailey against the L. B. Van Wagenen Company reported that it had been unable to agree on a verdict and the jurors were returned to the general panel. Mrs. Bailey, who resides at Rhinecliff, claimed $10,000 damages for injuries sustained when a trap-door in the sidewalk in front of the Van Wagenen store on Wall street fell on March 29, 1928, causing her and her mother to drop down the elevator shaft. N. H. Fessenden and M. O. Auchmoody appeared for the plaintiff and John W. Eckert appeared for the defendant.

Liability in the matter was not denied but the defendant contended that Mrs. Bailey was not seriously injured in the fall and that the amount she demanded was excessive.

An action to recover for work, labor and services was taken up for trial. Kate L. Shields seeks to recover from Michael F. Casey and the John A. Kennedy Realty Corporation the sum of $475 for wages which she claims is due her for services rendered as head waitress at the Orange Inn at Goshen. Her brother and Mr. Casey conducted the inn for a time and she was employed at a salary of $100 a month and board.

When Mr. Shields retired from the inn and sold out his business interest to the Kennedy Realty Corporation Miss Shields had due her $475 in back wages. It is the contention of the plaintiff that this liability was assumed by the new management. Testimony was introduced showing that there were certain bills, notes and mortgages assumed by the new owners under the contract and it was stated that there was a list of these bills mentioned in the contract, and which are itemized in the contract. This list was not produced by the witnesses sworn early in the trial and Judge Staley stated that he would hold that this list or other evidence must be produced to show that the new owners assumed this liability.

The new owners did not take over the inn property until long after the amount claimed was due and Miss Shields was no longer in the employ of the company when the new owners took possession.

Vernon Kelder and John W. Eckert appear for Miss Shields and the defendant Kennedy is represented by Grover C. Stiffin.

This afternoon a juror was withdrawn and the case was declared a mistrial.

TROIZKY'S SECLUSION BECOMES VOLUNTARY

Constantinople, March 12 (AP).—Seclusion of Leon Troizky, exiled former Soviet war chief, has become voluntary. The Soviet guards who have been watching his activities have been withdrawn since his removal to a hotel at Pera from the Soviet consulate there, and apparently he is free to do about as he will.

Thus far, however, he has not gone beyond the hotel corridors and has received no visitors. It is believed that if he keeps a purported promise to abstain from political agitation he may stay here as long as he chooses if other countries should continue to refuse him.

RECRUITS FOR MEXICAN REVOLUTION CAPTURED

New York, March 12 (AP).—A detachment of recruits for the Mexican revolution has been captured at a concentration camp in the Bronx.

The recruits enlisted yesterday on Staten Island, spending the last of their funds for transportation across the bay and subway fare to a vacant lot uptown, but while they were enamped for the night a policeman surprised a guard and seized the entire unit.

Angry at having been routed out of a pup tent of an army blanket they had pitched, the recruits, 9 to 11 years old—were grateful for police station beds in which they awaited the arrival of their parents.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE COMMUTED SENTENCE

Washington, March 12 (AP).—The department of justice made known today that President Coolidge had commuted on March 2, effective that date, the sentence of Albert C. Goodwin of Watervliet, N. Y., who was convicted at Indianapolis last November of conspiracy to counterfeit government revenue stamps.

Regulations for Traffic During Spring Display

Chief of Police Would Make Arrangements to Govern Traffic and Parking in Uptown Business Section at Opening of Spring Display Week on Thursday Evening.

Anticipating a large crowd at the opening of the Uptown Merchants' Spring Display Week, Thursday evening, Chief of Police J. Allan Wood has made arrangements to have the uptown streets policed in much the same manner as was done last year for the Spring Display Week opening. Traffic officers will be stationed at various points in and about the uptown shopping district to direct traffic and prevent congestion.

The regulations regarding traffic and parking will be in effect from 5 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 p. m. During those hours parking will be prohibited on Wall street in the business section and on North Front street from Fair to Crown streets. It is on Wall and North Front streets that the automobile men will exhibit their automobiles in a big open air automobile show. During those hours Wall street, Fair street and Clinton avenue will be one way streets from Main street to North Front street and traffic will be diverted from North Front in coming through Crown street.

Those who need to use these streets in the hours the special traffic regulations are in effect should take note of the change in traffic regulations and adjust themselves accordingly. This special regulation is made necessary in order to handle the huge crowds which will be in Wall and North Front streets during the evening hours and especially after 7:30 o'clock when the windows are unveiled.

Trolley and bus schedules, however, will operate as usual throughout the business section.

Shortly after 5 o'clock the automobiles which will be on display on Wall and North Front streets will be positioned and should weather conditions be favorable there will be an unusually large number of models on display.

Modified Income Tax Bill Offered

Albany, March 12 (AP).—A Republican income tax bill, a modified substitute for the 20 per cent reduction favored by Governor Roosevelt, was before the Legislature today. The measure, to date, carries neither the approval nor disapproval of majority leaders.

The bill, introduced last night in the Assembly and scheduled for introduction in the Senate today, proposes a 25 per cent credit on tax paid on earned income up to $10,000, all income up to $5,000 being deemed earned. The measure was sponsored by two New York city members of the Legislature, Senator Samuel H. Hottel and Assemblyman Abbot Low Moffat.

The sponsors present, among other arguments for their bill, the following:

"About 420,000 or just under 80 per cent of the persons paying an income tax have net incomes under $7,750. Over 85 per cent or five out of every six, have net incomes of $10,000 or less. There are fewer individuals in the $10,000 and under class who would not be more benefited by this bill than there are individuals whose net incomes run over $10,000 who would have received more advantage under this bill than under the Governor's proposal."

"In short, under the Moffat-Hottel bill at least 85 per cent of the income tax paying public in the lowest brackets, to whom relief is most essential, would receive considerably greater relief than under the Governor's plan. This relief would be permanent and not a temporary matter likely to become a political football from year to year."

Soviet Russia Is Celebrating

Moscow, March 12 (AP).—Soviet Russia today celebrated the twelfth anniversary of the breaking out of the revolution which resulted in the abdication of the Czar.

All shops, business houses and government institutions were closed.

The official Communist organ, Pravda, in an editorial on the occasion, said:

"Twelve years have elapsed from the day of the czar's fall. We are now in the thick of Socialist building, but we are building in hostile surroundings, within a circle of imperialist enemies."

JONES ACT CAUSES LIQUOR COST TO SOAR

New York, March 12 (AP).—The New York Herald Tribune says today that the Jones Act, increasing penalties for prohibition violations, has caused the price of liquor to soar, putting many of the smaller speakeasies out of business.

The wholesale price of whiskey, says the newspaper, has advanced as much as $40 a case and grain alcohol has doubled in price.

Recognize Hoover Leaders in South

Hoover Democrats Likely to Be Consulted in Making Appointments—Committee May Control Patronage in Each State.

Washington, March 12 (AP).—Recognition of the leaders of the Hoover Democrats of the south in the matter of federal appointments in that section is likely to be adopted by President Hoover as a cardinal policy.

There also are indications that in the eastern and western states the regular organization leaders will be required to consult on appointments those who had charge of the Hoover pre-convention campaign in those cases where these men are not identified with the regular state party leadership.

While there has been no formal announcement of the methods, that are to be pursued in selecting federal officers in the states south of the Mason and Dixon line, the general expectation is that this will be largely in the control of a committee for each state on which the Hoover Democrats will have membership, although by no means a majority.

The committee plan of handling patronage is being tried out in New York state, where H. Edmund Machold, state chairman, Charles D. Hill, Republican national committeeman, and William H. Hill, leader of the Independent Hoover-for-President Organization, are functioning. A number of appointments, including three judgeships are to be made in New York state, but so far as is known the committee has not yet made any recommendations.

The patronage situation in the south already has given the president considerable concern and has been an indirect cause, at least, of the retirement of Horace A. Mann, a Washington lawyer, from the political field as director of political affairs in the south for the president, a place he held during the campaign.

Mr. Mann had worked out a rather elaborate plan for handling appointments, laying it first before the executive body of the Republican national committee. That organization failed to act on it and then Mr. Mann took it to President Hoover.

The general understanding has been that Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, opposed the Mann proposition, and after he had visited the White House late in the week, Mr. Mann issued a statement announcing his retirement.

Some of the Republican national committeemen for the southern states have been reported in active opposition to the Mann policy.

HOOPER DEFENDED BY PENNSYLVANIA SOLONS

Harrisburg, Pa., March 12 (AP).—The House of Representatives of the general assembly was on record today in defense of President Hoover against criticism for not sending the name of Secretary Mellon to the Senate with other cabinet appointees for approval.

In a resolution adopted by unanimous vote the house condemned "the unjust and unfair criticism of the President" and expressed to Secretary Mellon "our unbounded faith in him as a public servant and admiration and respect of him as a man." The resolution was sent to the Senate.

The resolution charged that a "little group of malcontents" in the United States Senate "seized upon the fact President Hoover omitted submitting the name of the secretary of the treasury for confirmation as a publicity vehicle for themselves and an opportunity to embarrass both the President and Mr. Mellon."

U. S. REVENUE CUTTER OPENED RIVER CHANNEL

The first ice breaker in recent years went up the Hudson river on Sunday on the way to Albany, opening up a navigable channel through the ice. The ice breaker was the United States Revenue cutter Ossipee, which left New York Saturday afternoon. It was not until Poughkeepsie was reached that ice to any extent was found. The cutter was brought up the river through the efforts of the Port of Albany commission, which has a plan in mind which would keep the river open the year round for navigation.

Move American Troops To Guard Water Supply

Activities of Mexican Revolutionists Near Border Cause U. S. Forces to Be Sent to Arizona Town—No Other Troop Movement Contemplated at Present—Battle at Torreon May Determine Fate of Revolt.

Burke Quits Indian Bureau

Washington, March 12 (AP).—Movement of a small body of troops to the Mexican border for the protection of Naco, Ariz., and to guard the water supply of El Paso, about 8 miles from the international line, was reported to the War Department today by Major General Lassiter, commander of the Eight Army Corps Area at San Antonio.

At the request of the local authorities in Arizona, a company of the 25th Infantry and a troop of the Tenth Cavalry were dispatched by Colonel Douglas McCasky from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., to the border.

The authorities there had become uneasy over the activities of the Mexican revolutionists across the border from Naco and appealed for army protection. General Lassiter informed the War Department that no other troop movement was contemplated at present.

Hoover Considers Farm Relief

Senate and House Committees Follow His Views in Planning Hearings to Work Out Legislation for Extra Session.

Washington, March 12 (AP).—With the special session still a month away, President Hoover is turning his thoughts toward the development of plans for dealing with farm relief in his message to congress when it assembles in extraordinary session.

He has given much thought to the problem and his views are being followed largely by the committees of the senate and the house in planning hearings to work out the legislation. These hearings will start several weeks before the special session begins.

Although Mr. Hoover is reserving the public revelation of his plans for his message to congress, it is known the committees are preparing to approach the task largely from the cooperative marketing scale.

Many of the witnesses to be heard by the committees in planning the farm bill are expected to be persons who have had experience in dealing with the marketing of farm crops and the belief has been expressed that the measure that will come from the committee will largely hinge around the development of marketing facilities.

Some of those who have been closely associated with the President and appear to hold views similar to his believe that success in dealing with the farm problem can come only when the marketing of agricultural products has been developed to keep pace with production.

Y., March 12 (AP).—A broken neck, received yesterday when he fell six inches while rehearsing for a demonstration at the Cortland Normal School, proved fatal today to Lyle Harmon, 22, of Newport, N. Y., senior in the physical culture department. The first vertebra of Harmon's neck was snapped.

Rebels Silent as Crisis Near

Nogales, Ariz., March 12 (AP).—Mexican revolutionary leaders along the border were silent today as they awaited the drawing up of battle lines near Torreon and Mazatlan and the approach of the crisis in their attempt to overthrow the Mexico City government.

A colorful army of 2,000 rebels, consisting largely of Yaqui and Mayo Indians, was camped at Agua Prieta, Sonora, this morning. They were recruited from various points in Sonora and are being moved into Chihuahua. From there they are to move south to join the armies of General Juan Gonzalez Escobar, commander in chief of the revolutionary forces, in an attempt to stem the advance of the Mexican federal forces under General P. Elias Calles.

Revolutionary leaders said this detachment would need at least two days to effect a junction with Escobar's men.

Many Americans crossed the international line to see the revolutionists at Naco, Arizona, was centered on the equipment of the insurgents which consisted of late model Enfield and Winchester rifles. Every soldier carried two or three cartridge belts and a bayonet.

Rebels' Property Seized.

Mexico City, March 12 (AP).—The government announced today that it had confiscated Mexico City property belonging to prominent rebel leaders and would auction it to help defray costs of suppressing the revolution.

Among those against whom seizures were made are Governor Faustino Topete, General Roberto Cruz, and General Francisco Manzo, all of Sonora, and General Jesus M. Aguirre of Vera Cruz.

The Cruz property was valued at about 300,000 pesos (about $150,000). General Manzo's property included two houses as did Governor Topete's. General Aguirre had a house and furniture. All bank accounts also were confiscated.

Foresee End of Revolt

Mexicans here today foresaw quick suppression of the revolt against the government, possibly even with a no more serious battle than has marked the rebellion's course thus far.

While the main army of General Calles moved toward Torreon, Chihuahua, the more optimistic believed that when it faced the army of General Jose Gonzalez Escobar the rebel

Ex-Gov. Smith Takes Up Music

New York, March 12 (AP).—The Evening Post says today that former Governor Alfred E. Smith has taken to music—the sort of music often heard on the lower East side, where he first learned to love “The Sidewalks of New York.”

Smith, says the Post, has bought him a hand organ, and he has installed it of all places, in the decorous Hotel Biltmore, where he has a suite.

For days other occupants of the Biltmore wondered whence came those ancient strains—“Darling, I Am Growing Old,” “Ach, Du Lieber Augustin,” “East Side, West Side,” and “When You and I Were Young, Maggie.” Today the secret was out. It was Smith playing his grind organ.

It seems that the John J. Raskob children have a barrel organ. Smith saw it and wasn't happy until he had one himself. It arrived on March 4 and Smith played his first tune on the day that his recent opponent moved into the White House.

There were guests in the Smith suite a few evenings later and the story runs that the former governor prowled among them with a mysterious grin until two men, lodged in a crate, “Open her up,” he said, and in five minutes he was grinding out “Silver Threads Among the Gold” and the other old time favorites in the organ's repertoire.

The Smith hurdy, gurdy, is bravely painted in green, with fine red trimmings. It has spindly legs with rollers and an old fashioned hand crank.

“Now if I only had one of those monkeys from my old Albany zoo,” the former governor is quoted as saying on that first musical evening, “I could go out and make a good living.”

Americans Shot In Border Battle

El Paso, Texas, March 12 (AP).—An attempt to smuggle arms and ammunition across the international border was frustrated late last night after a gun battle in which two American patrolmen were wounded.

August Steinbrenner and Francis A. Scott, of the border patrol, were shot from ambush near Cordova Island as they started to investigate the presence of two loiterers on the American side of the boundary.

Approaching to within 40 yards of the two, the officers shouted and the answer was a fusillade of bullets from another direction, where a group lay concealed. Both men fell wounded.

Reinforcements arrived and a battle followed in which many shots were fired. Then, half a hundred men were seen to run to safety on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

Taxi Owners Protest Gas Tax

New York, March 12 (AP).—A fleet of taxicabs and large busses loaded with taxi owners started from Times Square this morning for Albany, where a protest will be lodged against the Faxon bill for a two-cent tax on gasoline.

One bus, carrying a band, four others were jammed with owners, while one hundred cabs were strung out in a long procession. Among the drivers was one woman, Jeanette Wing.

Among the large banners of protest carried on the busses was one which read “We want no gas tax. It means $100 a year in taxation.”

Philip J. O'Brien, president of the United Auto League of Drivers and Owners, headed the delegation.

Bomb Wrecks Chicago Building

Chicago, March 12 (AP).—A brick building housing a tailoring company was partly wrecked early today by a bomb. Fire which followed the explosion did further damage to the building and clothes. Police searched the ruins for two hours after receiving a report that four men had been seen in the building before the explosion, but found no bodies.

Advance Summer Style in Smart Printed Voile

Showing a popular fashion favored for resort wear, and one which promises to be in the twilight this summer. It is delicately flowered in dew drops and birds—an indestructible voile dress. The skirt is in tiers.

Stitches Will Cover Up Mark of Old Heels

It is not only for your growing daughter that you may find it necessary to let her down, because if you were really short skirts a season ago you will find that they look too short for smartness now, and if you have any last season's frocks on hand you may find that the worst thing the matter with them is the skirt length.

When there is a hem in the skirt it may be let down, but sometimes there is a line along the bottom of the skirt that does not come out even after the skirt has been cleaned.

On the little girl's frock it is a very easy matter to cover up the line of the old hem. You can make a row of stitches, three wide, each stitch about a quarter of an inch long, and each row, spaced so that the stitches are under the spaces of the row above.

The spaces should be the same length as the stitches.

On the very little girl's frock, feather-stitching may be used to cover this mark.

It is difficult to cover the mark suitably on a woman's frock, but the stitches mentioned can often be effectively used. There is much hand work on the new frocks, you know, and if this is carefully done it can be made to look like an integral part of the original frock.

Felt, Straw Combined in Spring Millinery

Combination of felt and straw will mark the spring hats, writes a Paris fashion correspondent. Most of them are in dark colors, black, navy and dark reds predominating. For wear a little later, light beige and cream shades may be expected. Two tones are often combined in the use of straw and felt.

There is no fixed rule for the use of felt. Sometimes it forms a draped brim, lifted off the face at the left side, with crown of straw. On other hats the brims are straw, rather elaborately cut with small ends and tabs jutting out to break the line.

Some of the advance summer hats shown have trimming underneath wide brims, usually in the form of formal stitching or flounces of ribbon.

Black Hats in Demand for the Younger Women

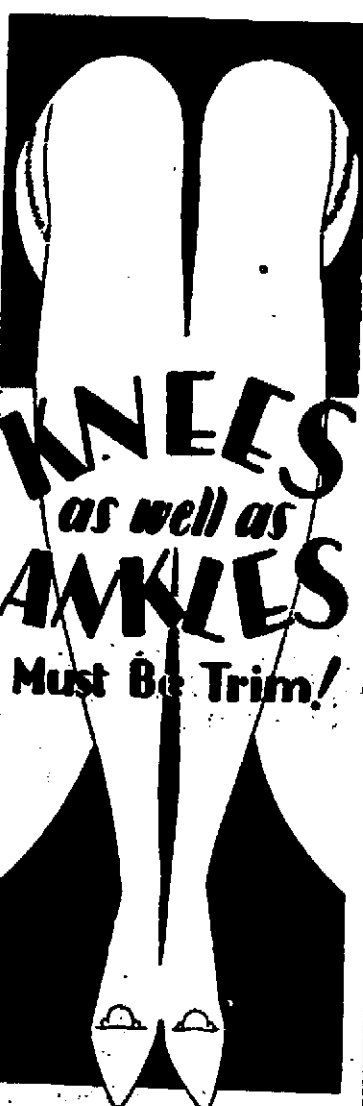

A recent survey of Fifth avenue millinery shops revealed the fact that the youthful New Yorker buys black hats, while her mother buys brown. The older woman is inclined to look favorably upon color, especially the light, dark and medium browns and the grays. Pastels also have a lure for the more mature woman, according to the survey.

The younger woman usually wears pastel fests for sports wear, but she wants black in worldly fabrics, such as calico, for other occasions.

JURY SERVICE OR SENTENCE.

Much has been said lately about the selfish intelligent citizen who dodges jury service. At a meeting of representatives of many civic organizations, called by the bar association in one city for the purpose of discussing the local jury situation, a newspaper editor showed the other side of the intelligent citizen's case. "They're not trying to dodge service, but are dodging a sentence," he said, blaming the lawyers who try to get rid of intelligent jurors for fear of justice will be achieved against their clients. The editor described his own experience as such an "undesirable" juror. He had to sit day after day in a stuffy room, without windows, where the men sat with old and worn copies of the Police Gazette and Atlantic Monthly as their only reading matter and two decks of time-worn cards with which to play. Called for jury service, many of these men found themselves not allowed to serve. Lawyers always found some way to excuse them from specific juries either for cause or by peremptory challenge.

Said the editor, "It was the hardest work I ever did, because so much of it was loading. Jurors are not going back a second time if there is any legitimate or illegitimate way to be excused after experiences like mine." Other citizens who have had a similar experience have the same discouraged and disgusted feeling. The dodging of such citizens comes after a period of so-called jury service which is actually, as the editor said, a "sentence" to confinement in the unhealthy atmosphere of the jury waiting room. Lawyers seriously concerned about getting better jurors can do much toward the reform by reforming their own tactics.

BEES IN LITIGATION.

While that art trial was going on in New York, another unusual case was thrashed out in a Chicago court. It concerned the value and habits of bees. Two men sued a railroad company for $50,000 claiming 175 hives of bees, 20,000,000 bees in all, had died en route from Alabama to Illinois. It was charged that holes in the roofs of the cars allowed rain to fall on the hives, drowning many bees and killing others with pneumonia or maybe flu. The railroad admitted the bees were dead, but disagreed as to the cause and the company's responsibility therefor. The railroad produced witnesses who testified that bees are not industrious, home-loving creatures, that they are robbers, hijackers and cannibals. Another witness for the railroad asserted that they were too temperamental for railroad travel and should never have been shipped in that manner in the first place.

The jury, with the beautiful inconsistency and impartiality of American juries generally, brought in a verdict for both parties. That is, they granted damages to the plaintiffs, thereby admitting the defendant's guilt, and at the same time reduced the amount of damages to about one-eighth the sum asked. The bees seem to have been the only parties "stung" in the deal.

THRIFT TRAVEL.

Whoever inaugurated the "tourist third cabin" certainly started something. Those who went to Europe in this fashion in 1925 numbered 20,000. They have been increasing at the rate of 20,000 a year ever since, reaching 100,000 in 1928. The annual increase, or more, is expected this year. The eastward movement of American sightseers to the Old World is now greater than the westward movement of European immigrants to the New World. This is the combined result of American prosperity and our immigrant quota system.

It costs American teachers, students, artists, and professional folk generally little or no more to cross the sea than it used to cost immigrants, and they have better quarters and service. Americans are finding it morally true that they can travel abroad as cheaply as at home. This part of our familiar motor caravans are changing to ship caravans. Incidentally Europe is getting far better acquainted with America, and forming a truer conception of it. Natives over there are learning that Americans are not all millionaires—that, in fact, the majority of American tourists are persons of modest means who are able to travel widely because they travel thrifflily.

Kansas, once a treeless prairie, has been remodeling its own landscape with great effectiveness. A recent survey indicates that nearly 300,000,000 trees have now been set out as part of the state agricultural program. More than 3,500,000 of these are fruit trees. It is likely that within an excellent example set by state authorities, many private citizens have been doing tree-planting of their own. Even thorough tree-planting work establishes no permanent forests. It does, however, create beauty and helps create a future timber crop. The millions of fruit trees mean the development of an orchard industry in the prairie state. Every report of an active tree-planting policy in any state or city is good news. The country as a whole needs a larger and more effective forestry program, but every effort everywhere is important.

When Henry Ford cautioned young men against saving their money when there was need of spending it to help themselves forward he left it for them to decide whether a car would provide the most rapid advance.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY James W. Barton, M. D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.) FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

When our ancestors had to hunt for their food they had bodies like our own. However they were never absolutely certain just when their next meal would be at hand, and so they ate most heartily when they secured some trophy of the hunt. They ate herbs of course, but the big part of the meal was animal flesh.

When a little later agriculture and fruits came to hand, there was less need for flesh. These, with oils or fats, and water, complete the varieties of food now available to man. To this day some folks feel that they need meat three times a day because their ancestors were big meat eaters.

Other individuals believe that now there is the different grain foods that these with fruit and milk, should be the ideal food for man. However although man is the same type of being as his ancestors, with the passing of the ages there certainly have been changes in the glandular system, influenced also by the climate of the different countries inhabited by man, and with these changes have come differences in the manner in which foods are handled by different races in the world, and also by the different types of people of the same race.

What is my thought? An Arctic explorer, Stefansson, reports that our Eskimo living on meat alone never have cancer, and McGarison tells us that the natives of India, living on fruits and vegetables, never have cancer, nor do they have intestinal trouble of any kind.

Now for the rest of us that live in a temperate climate it would seem that some point half way between the extreme meat eater, and the extreme vegetarian would be about right. If we eat at all it is likely in eating too much meat, which should be a good part of the everyday diet of a farmer, mechanic, or others working hard with their hands, but should be about one seventh of the daily diet of an office man.

However there is one place where we can't make a mistake and that is in eating plenty of fruit and vegetables no matter where we live or the nature of our work.

Dr. M. E. Wierker tells us that "a fruit and vegetable diet, largely raw, carried out for four to six weeks acted to bring a high or low viscosity of the blood to normal."

In other words if the "stickiness" of your blood was too high or too low the fruit and vegetable corrected the condition.

So you can't go wrong, except in some skin ailments, in eating fruits and vegetables anytime, anywhere.

"My Thirty Years at Sea"

By CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

The social obligations of a captain are many and varied and etiquette is closely followed. Fried encountered them immediately he came to command. What they are, how he met them, and his policy of an open cabin door to passengers, are subjects of this story.

By CAPT. GEORGE FRIED. (Copyright, 1929, Associated Press.)

CHAPTER XIV. Following the Siberian trips the America was ordered to Newport News, where the Mount Vernon was tied up with some 5,000 troops aboard, which she had brought from Vladivostok just prior. The Mount Vernon had engine trouble and the men were to be transferred to our vessel. On the return voyage from Trieste the America took some 2,400 passengers to New York, many of them being Italian immigrants. The America was still fitted out as a transport but in that capacity with accommodations that were just as good as those offered to the immigrant before the war. What a contrast there is between those quarters of pre-war days and the ones the third class passenger enjoys today. In the old days there was no dining room. The immigrants sat in circles on the deck, ten to a mess, around a kettle in which some sort of a stew had been cooked. Each had a kit of tin utensils from which to eat. The refuse was thrown overboard and the passengers had to clean the utensils for the next meal. All the women were segregated in one compartment of the ship, separate from the male passengers, and the first evening out from port, each immigrant was given a donkey breakfast—an armful of crude sanitary facilities and social halls and smoke rooms were never even dreamed of.

Today the third class passenger has a bed with clean linens, rooms with berths, dining room, smoking room and social hall, a library and baths.

After her career as a transport the America was taken over by the United States Shipping Board and allocated to an organization that failed after a short period of operation. In 1921 the United States Lines became the operating agents. We then had the nucleus of a passenger unit for the American Merchant Marine. For one year I served as a chief officer of the America and in February, 1922, took command of my first passenger ship, the Pennsylvania State, which was afterwards renamed the President Roosevelt. I took her out of the Camden yards as a new ship and remained aboard as master for six years, during which time I had the good fortune to supervise the rescue

Adrian Loomis of Hunter visited in Ashokan Wednesday. The firemen held a meeting Wednesday evening at the fire hall. Plans were put under way to have the Fourth celebrated here and not have it quiet-do-nothing day.

It seemed like old times to see Bob Merrifield back here playing basketball. He was an excellent player and was one of the Phoenix team. The difference this time was he played on the Woodstock team.

Mrs. J. Norton entertained friends recently. R. Smith has a bad cold. L. Breitaupt and family left Sunday afternoon enroute to Miami, Fla. They went by car to the city where they boarded the train for the South.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Shurter were in Kingston callers Friday. Charles Frederick has fully recovered from an operation and is out of the Philadelphia Hospital and gone with his mother to Bellport, L. I., where they expect to stay until May the first and then will come to their home in Phoenixia. Charles wishes to thank all his pals and friends in Phoenixia for the mail he received from them while in the hospital as it was very cheering for him. During the three weeks he was in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Scherhorn have moved in part of Mrs. Grant's house. Mr. Scherhorn is a railroad man and the change to the Stony Clove caused him to have to be on the side of the line instead of at Hunter. All welcome them and also Mr. and Mrs. Brodhead.

The conference for the M. E. constituency will soon hold its sitting. The ministers will then be placed to fill the various pulpits for another year.

"JOAN and TOMMY.. two excellent reasons for these shoes!"

"COULD you manage a house and two more-than-usually sprightly youngsters when your shoes pinch? I could not!"

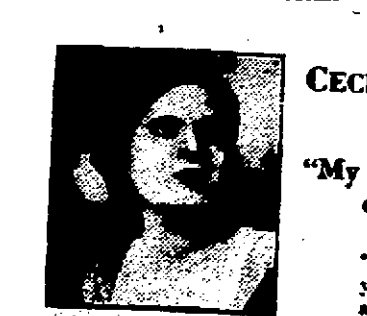

"Joan and Tommy, my two children—are two excellent reasons for my wearing Cantilevers. Of course, they are good children, nice and reasonably well-behaved, yet I could never keep up with them—and manage the household—if I hadn't comfortable shoes!"

"Joan is now three years old and Tommy is five, so both are still stay-at-homes and need a lot of their mother's attention. With their permission I may boast of the fact that they consider their mother 'good fun.' Tommy says, 'Mother is always full of pep!' Naturally, I'm glad! Part of the credit goes to my wonderful shoes. Cantilevers are so comfortable that I don't know what it means to have tired feet. I can feel fresh even at the end of the day."

Mrs. THOMAS HILL

A Cantilever Shoe is designed to follow the natural, and beautiful, outlines of your foot. It is flexible—like your foot. And Cantilevers are beautiful shoes! They are designed by craftsmen who understand the natural beauty of the foot—and the demands of today's mode. The new styles are particularly attractive. Come in and see them!

Among the enthusiastic Cantilever owners in this community are:

Mrs. W. E. Howard Mrs. David Draper Mrs. F. O. Ostrander Mrs. O. Schoonmaker Mrs. Sam Bush

The Senior Class of the Marlborough High School sponsored a motion picture entitled, "Give and Take," which was shown at the Advance Theatre on Wednesday evening. The picture was an amusing one. There were two comedies, which were also enjoyed by all.

CECIL ARDEN, world-famous concert singer, says:

"My Cantilevers have been all over Europe with me!"

"I have just returned from a two years' concert tour of France, Germany and Switzerland. My Cantilevers shoes have covered a good deal of ground! I walk every day, sometimes miles, sometimes but a few blocks. Nothing is better for developing stage poise and gracefulness. And I always walk in Cantilevers—because they are so comfortable, because they fit and bend with every step, because they never tire me. I have won the praise of these fine shoes to my European friends. Now many of them send me American for their Cantilevers."

A fat girl cat on a fence was a day. She knew that it was wrong. But the young man was a villain. She didn't all there long.

Mothers who have made the poorest job of training their boys are the ones who will tell the first-grade teacher how to do it.

An Irishman, who was an eligible bachelor, visited a widow in his district every evening and had tea with her. A friend suggested that he should marry the lady.

"I have often thought about it," he said, "but where should I spend my evenings then?"

The woodpecker succeeds in making a hole by the use of its head.

Elderly Lady: "Please tell me where Capa City is located."
Conductor: "Never heard of it."
Elderly Lady: "See, it's listed on that box car—Capacity 30,000."

Teacher (to class of small boys): "Which of you boys can give a sentence in fewest words, containing the words Defence, Death and Details?"

Johnny promptly replied: "When de dog goes over defence, defeat goes over before detail."

Lyre is a musical instrument. It's also a fisherman only you don't spell it that way.

"Luck's always against me," mourned Snickel.

"Unburden yourself," counseled Fritz.

"Well, last night I was rowing on the lake. The moonlight was maddening. The air was like wine. Romance danced on the rippling waters. It was a night of nights for lovers. The woman with me was young and beautiful."

"Is that your idea of hard luck?" "Certainly. The woman was my wife."

Nothing can take the place of brains—but money helps some.

Mr. Boob: "I find my ham in front of my store, and along comes a dog and steals it! What will I do?"

Lawyer: "Make the man who owns the dog pay for the ham."

Mr. Boob: "Well, Mr. Lawyer, it was your dog and you owe me two-thirds."

Lawyer: "That's so. Well, my charge for legal advice is five dollars, so you owe me two-seventy."

"My uncle can make antique dining-room chairs by the hundreds," said a woman, "reproducing any pattern exactly, even to the wads of antique chewing gum stuck underneath."

"What would your mother say, little boy, demanded the passer-by virtuously. "If she could hear you swear like that!"

"She'd be tickled to death if she could hear it," answered the bad little boy.

"Why, how?" asked the lady, shocked.

"Why?" exclaimed the boy. "Because she's stone deaf!"

A walks at the rate of six miles per hour.
B walks at the rate of four miles per hour.
Starting from points ten miles apart they walked toward each other. A bird flying at the rate of 25 miles per hour flies from A to B and keeps flying back and forth until they meet. How far does the bird travel before they meet?

There will be a social held in the lecture room at 8 p. m. on Friday evening, March 15. All those who attended the Valentine social will be glad to come again and those who missed that wonderful evening of fun and good fellowship will want to come this one. The Missionary Society which had been postponed on account of the weather, was held at the home of Mrs. George Kennedy at Maple Hill. There was a large attendance. The following officers were re-elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. C. W. Bedford; vice president, Mrs. Ransom Krom; secretary, Miss Florence N. Relyea; treasurer, Mrs. Cornelius Hotaling. After the regular business there was an interesting literary program. All enjoyed the social hour spent over the tea-cups.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Bedford gave the Crusaders and their mothers a party at the parlance. A good time was enjoyed by all. The parlance is a pleasant place to be since the church had a hot air heating plant installed. The pastor and his wife appreciate it very much.

"NOAH" HAS ARK SET FOR FLOOD

Pacific Coast Hermit Ready for the Deluge He Believes Is Due.

Olympia, Wash.—The "Ark of the Pacific Coast," built to carry followers of the Lord to higher lands when the floods of the Pacific coast, rising on Puget sound under the shadow of the dome of the state Capitol.

The "ark," built by a hermit named William Greenfield, is one of the strangest ships ever constructed.

Young, middle-aged and aged are following in the path of sin, says Greenfield, who has turned himself master of the queer craft, and who has built the "ark" in answer to God's revelation, to carry him and his followers across the ocean to higher lands when life invokes the penalty of sin.

Captain Greenfield is aided in his work by one known to him as Michael. The "Twentieth century Noah" says that God named Michael to assist him in preparing the vessel.

Neither knows when the vessel floats peacefully on the harbor awaiting the call, which Michael says will come in two years and which Greenfield says will come in one year, apparently neither knowing just when the deluge is to inundate the Pacific coast.

Greenfield has made it plain that he will not carry any animals with him when he takes the journey. He plans on making only a short voyage with the ship.

The hull of the craft was constructed by Greenfield at an Olympia mill in 1922, and floated to its present location, where at low tide it rests in a specially constructed cradle to keep it clear of mud.

The boat is anchored near the end of one of the arms of Puget sound, approximately a mile from the dome of the new Capitol. One inspired by man and the other by God, so says the "prophet."

A 100-horse power motor is located in the hull. Installation of the motor has not been completed. The craft carries no propeller.

Plans for Mysina.

The first deck of the "sin saver" is fitted up for living quarters where the modern Noah spends much of his time, probably pondering over the present state of the world. The tiny room in which he meditates is jammed with odds and ends. A small piano, in need of tuning, fits one corner. It is to be used by Greenfield after the "ark" has landed on dry land, for singing hymns of praise.

The room is lined with sheet metal and painted white. Toward the stern another room is located, to be used as a guest room for visitors. A narrow walk is provided along the hull of the stern where a ladder leads upward to the top of the deck. This deck is raised over to keep the sails, that are slated to fall during the deluge, back.

Greenfield is of slight build, medium height and about sixty years of age. He is of English descent, but was born in Illinois.

DON'T STARVE TO END FAT

Few succeed without harm. Try the modern way, embodied in Marmola's prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. The results are seen everywhere.

Marmola contains a gland element which helps turn food into fuel and energy. The formula appears in every box, also the reasons for results. Thus you will know how the changes occur without harm.

All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. Go start it now. Take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. Do this because of the new beauty and vim which Marmola has brought to so many, for so long.

White House Backlash

Two Presidents of the United States were backslashed when elected—James Buchanan and Grover Cleveland. During his first term, however, the latter was married to Frances Pickens, daughter of his former law partner at Buffalo. Therefore Buchanan, the only President who was never married, is known as the Backslashed President. He was the fifteenth President and was Franklin's predecessor in the White House—Fathender Magazine.

"Lux Toilet Soap gives my skin a satiny-smoothness," says Raquel Torres. Like nine out of every ten screen stars, this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer beauty uses this white, fragrant soap. And in Hollywood all the great film studios have made it the official soap for all dressing rooms.

which the coat is intended to be worn. The longer-back coat is a logical development since many dresses retain this feature.

Redingotes for sports wear are another headliner in spring wear, these usually being fashioned of tweed or a monotone light weight woolen which may be brilliant instead of neutral in tone.

The black broad cloth coat has insinuated itself into the spring program and remains the most elegant of all for afternoon usage. Whether or not it is furled seems to be a question for individual decision.

ACTIVITIES OF THE ZENA COUNTRY CLUB

There will be a dance at the Zena Country Club on Saturday evening, March 16. This being a St. Patrick's dance it is expected to be especially inviting and the music by the Club orchestra and Pete Boice will be tuned up to the occasion.

Rehearsals for the three act comedy "Snicker's Boarding House" are being held at the club house twice a week and are progressing with great satisfaction. It is hoped that at the next rehearsal the date of presentation will be set and announced in the next few days.

Members and their friends meet every Friday evening at the club house for progressive pinochle. Last Friday evening Alice Holmner and Dan Lynch were awarded first prizes and Mrs. Eugene Hung and Ernest Balding received the consolation prizes. Refreshments were served after games. Members are invited to bring their friends along to help enjoy the evening.

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, March 11.—The monthly Missionary meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Wesp on Wednesday afternoon, March 13, at 2:30 o'clock. As this is the last meeting of the year a full attendance is desired. As the election of officers will take place at this time for coming year, Mrs. Elmira Ellsworth of St. Remy will be present and give an address. It is hoped there will be a goodly number of the ladies of the village present.

Walter Houst of Mount Vernon was a recent guest of his father, the Rev. Henry Houst, of this village. Charles Clinsman has moved from the Anderson bungalow on lower Main street to the Hardenbergh flat up-street.

The many friends in this village of Mrs. Nicholas Lippert are glad to hear she is slowly recovering from a serious operation performed at the Benedictine Hospital a few weeks ago and that she will soon be able to return home to her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Roosa, who moved from Cottekill to this village about March first, are settled in their new home and Mr. Roosa has opened his market and will be pleased to serve his patrons with fish, fruit and vegetables.

Arthur Moore has been confined to the house the past few days with a lame back. His many friends miss him and all hope he will soon be out again.

Miss Tielman of Whiteport has been a guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Hasbrouck the past week.

Mrs. Charles Ten Hagen, who has been in New York city the past month for treatment, returned to her home the past week.

The mid-week prayer and praise service will be held at the home of Harry Wesp on Thursday evening, March 14, at 7:30 o'clock. Every one welcome to these meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beach have been spending a few days with relatives in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wernit of New York city were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wesp.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 12 (AP).—Lowering of the call money rate from 7 to 6 per cent and a further advance in domestic copper prices to 20 cents a pound provided the background for a general advance in prices in today's stock market after an opening period of irregularity. Trading was relatively light, indicating that many traders and investors preferred to stay out of the market until current uneasiness over the credit situation had disappeared.

The drop in call money was attributed to the temporary employment by banks here of the large surplus of funds accumulated in preparation for the heavy mid-month disbursements and federal income tax payments. Time money ruled firm around 7 1/2 per cent with little money available below that figure.

Wall Street general expects an increase in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate either this week or next. It was reported that a large short interest had been built up in expectation of the higher rate, and that the rally today represented the driving in of over-extended "shorts" in some of the volatile issues.

Public Utilities were in the forefront of the early afternoon rally. One block of 15,000 shares of Pacific Gas and Electric changed hands at 55 1/4, followed by an advance which wiped out the early losses. American Express jumped 8 1/2 points; American Railway Express 4 1/2; Electric Power and Light American and Foreign Power and Western Union sold 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 points higher.

Radio (new stock), which is now traded in against the delivery of actual certificates, again changed hands in large volume, climbing 3 points. The old stock, which will disappear from the list a week from Friday, jumped 10 points.

Coppers moved forward under the leadership of Anaconda, Chile and Kennecott, all of which sold 3 to 4 points above last night's closing quotations. Rosella Insurance soared nearly 9 points to a new high at 27 1/2, and Foundation Co. moved up 4 1/2 to a new top at 39 1/2. Allis Chalmers, National Gas Register, Union Carbide and A. M. Byers sold 3 to 5 points higher.

There were a few soft spots. Case Threshing Machine broke 16 points to a new low for the year at 435 nearly 7 points lower.

Quotations given by Parker McElroy & Co., members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York city, branch office, Stuyvesant Hotel.

Hoover Opposed to Leasing Oil Lands

Washington, March 12 (AP).—President Hoover said today there would be complete conservation of government oil lands during his administration.

The President, answering inquiries by newspapermen, said there would be no lease or disposal of oil lands during his administration, no matter by what department the lands were controlled, except such dispositions as were made mandatory by Congress.

"There will be no leases or disposal of government oil lands," President Hoover said, "no matter what category they may be in, of government controls, except those which may be mandatory by Congress. In other words, there will be complete conservation of government oil in this administration."

Blizzard Rages In Wyoming

Laramie, Wyo., March 12 (AP).—The worst blizzard in two years was raging here today. Between 18 and 24 inches of snow had fallen in the Laramie region and a high wind was piling up deep drifts.

Highways were closed in every direction and traffic was paralyzed. Snow plows were keeping the Union Pacific rail lines open.

Some Warlike Females Who Fought Own Battles

Many married men suspect the truth of the legend of the Amazons, a race of warlike women who once overran Europe, ventured as far as India and Africa and founded colonies in Asia Minor. Fairly authentic history records that in 1540 an explorer, Francisco de Orellana, making his way from Peru to the Atlantic through the Brazils, was told of a tribe of warrior women who lived apart from the men. He proceeded on his journey and approached the neighborhood at the junction of the Madera and Marañon rivers, and suddenly found himself opposed by a group of warlike women who were gathered on the banks and were leading the men in what might have been a battle, had the explorer given them any excuse for it.

Being convinced that he had fallen on the renowned Amazons, Orellana cross-examined some of the natives, who confirmed his belief. The women appeared to be very tall, robust, fair of complexion, with long hair twisted over their heads and skins of wild beasts wound around their loins. They carried bows and arrows with which they succeeded in killing many of the explorer's party.

It is said to have been for these fair but ferocious enemies that Orellana named the river Amazon.

Figures Are Valuable Only When Accurate

Statistics are like knives; they can be used for good or evil, observes Dr. Thurman B. Rice in Hygeia. The commonest sentence heard in debates usually begins: "Statistics prove that—" But Doctor Rice warns that statistics prove nothing except when they have been accurately collected, compiled, interpreted and applied.

In the hands of some devotees of a faddish project a given set of figures may prove or disprove anything. When one hears a speaker quote figures from memory or without giving the source of his information it is time to go home, says Doctor Rice. It is easy to forget whether a certain death rate was 14 per thousand or 14 per hundred thousand.

The unscientific man uses figures to prove what he started out to prove, while the scientist uses them to lead him to the truth.

The Rapacious Pike

The pike's reputation for cruelty and voraciousness is such that it has been popularly dubbed the "water wolf." It is probable, however, that many species of sea fish are equally, if not a great deal more, rapacious.

Large dogfish, congers, pollack, cod and bass are especially ferocious, while halibut will very often seize and kill other large fish. An English angler was "playing" a large conger when a huge halibut swam up to and savagely bit at it—a proceeding that cost the halibut its life, for on it making for the foundered conger a second time the boatman contrived to gaff and haul it aboard.

There have been many examples of pike being found dead, choked by their own species, and these fish not infrequently attack another pike that has been hooked by a fisherman.

Big Bertha

"Big Bertha" had a firing distance of 75 miles. The principle on which this long-distance gun was operated is that if a shell is fired upward at an angle of 55 degrees to the horizontal, and at a high velocity, so that the shell will rise to the dense atmosphere close to the earth's surface and rapidly reach the thin air which exists at a height of ten miles above the earth, then its flight will be practically unimpeded and it will travel a great distance before it falls again.

During its flight from the "Big Bertha" the German shell rose to a height of 24 miles, and traveled more than 60 miles of its course in a very thin atmosphere.

Strawberry prices further advanced. Receipts were considerably lighter and sales were made at 35-40c a quart basket on fancy and 20-30c on fair to ordinary.

White potatoes, with 1,573 cars, led the vegetables. Lettuce was next with 697, tomatoes 618, cabbage 617 and onions 616 cars. Among fruits, oranges held first place with 1,397 cars, apples were next with 1,077, grapefruit 507, pears 249 and strawberries 230 cars. Supplies during February were drawn from 35 states. Florida contributed 3,892 cars, California 2,208, Maine 1,934, Texas 1,031 and New York 602 cars. Imports were received from 12 countries and were equivalent to 1,933 carloads.

String beans strengthened, especially on fancy stock. Receipts were moderate and exclusively from Florida. Jobbing business on seven-eighths bushel hampers of Green Refuges was at $1.25-$1.30. Bountiful realized $2-$4. Other varieties sold at $1.50-$2.75, and wax beans at $1-$1.50.

California's first carload of asparagus arrived today. Despite price declines, demand was slightly improved. Today's prices were about fifty per cent lower than the season's first offerings. Various grades of bunched green asparagus jobbed out as high as $25 per dozen bunches and as low as $6.

Robinson Finds It Hard to Smile

When his star pitcher, Dazzy Vance, is a holdout and his captain and shortstop, Glenn Wright, has a sore arm.

Clearwater, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Walter Robinson, the "Jolly Robber" of Brooklyn baseball, finds it harder to display his beaming smile at the Robins, established and promising, no about their training. Any from Robby may be concealing some injured. His star pitcher is out of the nest, his captain and shortstop, about whom he expects to build his team, is suffering from a sore arm, and he has some fielders who can't hit and some hitters who can't field.

Big Dazzy Vance, the speedball king of the National League, is losing valuable days of preparation for a busy season while he continues his attention to the business office instead of the ball field. The dazzy thinks the club officials have underestimated his value by about $2,500 and wants his contract figures revised.

Glenn Wright, a great shortstop, pulled up with a lame arm in his first day of practice and is under treatment. Robinson's plans for his infield combination must remain uncertain.

Brooklyn lacks coordination in some of the players. If Wally Gilbert could hit like either Babe Herman or Harvey Hendrick he would be a third base sensation and if either of the club's star hitters could come up with the balls Gilbert gets, Robby would worry much less. "Too early," says the manager when asked if he had made a tentative arrangement of his infield and outfield combination. The task may be a trifle difficult much later.

Two positions seem assigned. Del Bissone, who can hit and field, will play first base, and Herman will take care of right field. Herman is no ball hawk but the club's best hitter.

Jake Flowers was given a tentative advantage at second base in the pre-season calculations but Billy Rhinel, who has had two trials with the club, has complicated the situation by his good playing in practice. Rhinel appears certain to remain with the club as he is a versatile performer.

Wright in shape in conceded the shortstop position without opposition but if his arm should be slow in coming around, Dave Bancroft will have to step in. Gilbert is essential at third base from a defensive standpoint, but if he fails to hit, Hendrick may have to be moved in from the outfield for the sake of offense.

Rube Dressler will be an outfielder, at least part of the time. Max Rosenfeld, one of the University of Alabama crop of football and baseball players, John Frederick, a Memphis graduate, and much traveled Henry Cullip and Hal Lee, former infielder, furnish an interesting contest for the available outfield openings. Max

Pirate Pitching Staff in Shape

Paso Robles, Cal., March 12 (AP).—The Warner brothers, Paul and Lloyd, still are on the absent list, but the Pittsburgh Pirates are hustling for the National League pennant drive behind a pitching staff that gives early season promise of being second to none in the circuit.

In the hustle and bustle of training camp preparations here the fact that the star outfielders continue firm in their holdout roles has been sidetracked for the more serious business of molding available material into championship calibre. Besides the general opinion here is that the two Warners will have settled their salary differences and be in uniform by the time the season starts.

Manager Louie Bush pins his hopes on his burly and expects the rest of the squad to rise to the occasion. The mound corps has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Jess Petty, veteran left hander, acquired from Brooklyn in the deal for Glenn Wright, shortstop. Ray Knauer and Burleigh Grimes, right handers, are in top form. The triumvirate of Petty, Knauer and Grimes will bear the burden and should do until another comes along. Two other old timers, Carmen Hill and Lee Meadows, the latter back from the voluntary retired list, are showing up well and may get into the running.

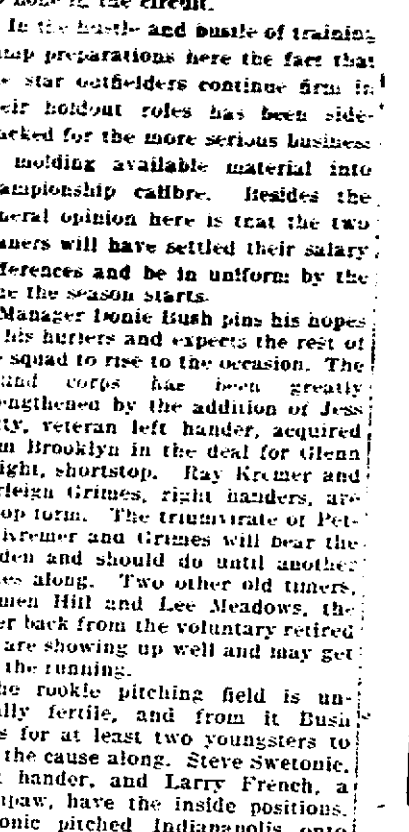

The rookie pitching field is unusually fertile, and from it Bush looks for at least two youngsters to help the cause along. Steve Swetonic, right hander, and Larry French, a southpaw, have the inside positions. Swetonic pitched Indianapolis onto the map last season and French did more than his bit for Portland of the Coast League. Ervin Drame, right hander, has a job because of his pinch hitting ability. Fred Fussell, left hander, and Walter Tauscher and Ralph Dawson, right handers, all holdouts, have not been counted out.

If the Warner boys pull the unexpected and remain out of baseball, the Pirate outfield will be guarded by George Grantham, Fred Brickell and Adam Comorosky, the latter two youngsters but members of the squad in 1928. An outfield without the Warners would almost be a calamity, but Bush feels that the alternates are not the worst in the same by any means.

Added to the uncertainty of the outer garden, is an infield problem involving third base. Captain Pie Traynor has been shifted from third to short and at the latter position Bush believes he will be a star of the first water. Jim Stroner, a recruit who clouted out 42 home runs for Wichita in the Western League last season, is wanted for the third base position. Sparky Adams has been holding down second base most of the time and third some of the time, with Dick Barte relieving him at the key-stone berth. Harry Riconda, also from Brooklyn in the Wright deal, is another making a strong bid for third. Earl Sheer, ten year veteran

Expect Crowd at Armory Bouts

Ticket sales forecast that there will be a large attendance at the fights to be held in the local armory on Friday night, March 15, so Captain E. C. Lawson, who has arranged what he thinks will be a fine entertainment, is making plans to handle a record attendance.

Undoubtedly many fans will flock to the armory to see the performance big Bill Freeman of West Point is going to put up against the husky Tommy Dorr of New York city. It is known what Freeman can do with either hand, and advance notices claim as much for his opponent.

Tommy Dorr is said to be a heavy weight well established in National Guard circles. Of course the New Yorker is not a champion, neither is Freeman, but many locals who have seen him in action hold high hopes for the success of the negro as an army boxer. At present Freeman is considered one of the leading contenders for the army heavyweight honors.

It is the intention of Matchmaker Jimmy Ambrose to attack Freeman with the toughest boys he can find, before he gets a crack at the big men's crown. With this attitude in mind he signed him to mix it with Dorr at the local armory.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Braddock Wins Over Slattery

New York, March 12 (AP).—The stiff-punching Jersey City light-heavyweight, James J. Braddock, who has to be taken seriously, it seems. He has had a hard time convincing the boys that he really is a first-rate 175-pounder but there are fewer "Doubting Thomases" today than there were a day or so ago.

James J. from Jersey City chased the Buffalo will o' the wisp, Jimmy Slattery, for eight rounds at Madison Square Garden last night and then caught up with him by a technical knockout in the ninth round.

Braddock's record in the last six months is impressive. He cracked Pete Latzo's jaw and won the decision in ten rounds. Then he knocked out Tuffy Griffith in two rounds. To Leo Lomski he dropped a close decision.

For eight rounds Slattery danced and boxed his way out of difficulty. Near the close of the eighth round Braddock caught Slattery in a corner and drove both hands to the body. Just as Buffalo Jimmy seemed to have worked his way clear of the storm a long right caught him on the chin. Slattery held on and boxed his way out of danger until the round ended.

In the ninth a two-fisted attack sent Slattery down for the count of five. At the count of five he came up, a reeling, helpless figure. He was in no shape to continue and Referee Lou Magnolia halted the struggle. Slattery weighed 168½; Braddock 173.

Chandlers Will Go to Buffalo

The Chandler quintet, as representatives of the local Y. M. C. A., will compete in the state tournament at Buffalo on March 22. It was decided at a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. Monday night.

Secretary John C. Porter of the "Y" lent a big hand in helping the team solve financial conditions, which loomed as a great obstacle, by giving the Chandlers permission to stage benefit games on the local court, the proceeds of which will be used to defray expenses. Mr. Porter, who is very much interested in the team, also donated the use of his car to help get the Kingston boys to Buffalo.

The honor of competing with some of the best teams in the state will be that secured the Chandlers by going to Buffalo. This in turn will put Kingston on the sports map, so it is expected that Kingston fans will show their interest by supporting the benefit games at the Y. M. C. A.

The first benefit game will be staged at the "Y" tonight, when the Chandlers and Cohoes Y. M. C. A. team will clash. The second will be put on Saturday night against formidable opponents.

Normal Team Wins Two Games

New Paltz and Middletown High School teams matched late camp by Teachers' Normal. Quizzes played Friday.

The New Paltz Normal School basketball team won two victories last week over teams that had been waiting for some time to get a crack at the much heralded teachers. The New Paltz High School and Middletown High School varlets mixed it with the teachers in interesting court wars only to be victimized by the much heralded Normal team. New Paltz High School lost out 31-33 and the Middletown team was out by one point, 34-35. This Friday the Normal will meet the Middletown High School team at New Paltz.

Thursday night the Normal and high school boys met in combat and a goodly number turned out to see the court war, which ended in victory for the Normal. At half time the teachers topped the high school players, 17-18, a score which indicated close battling. Five points separated the teams throughout the game, which was taken by the Normal boys, 33-31. Captain Peterson of the winning team was unable to play. Oakley, a mainstay of the teachers' quintet, did not enter the fray until the second half, but this did not prevent him from being the star scorer of the game. He came through with 11 points, highest individual score of the tilt.

Friday night's battle with the Middletown High School varsity was one of the hardest engaged in by the Normal team this season. A crowd of enthusiastic fans were kept on their toes throughout the game, which was decided in favor of the Normal in the last few seconds of play by Stuart's foul. The New Paltz team made good 11 times out of 18 free throws, which was a big factor in overcoming the Middletown.

The Girls' team of New Paltz Normal School played a preliminary with the La Vogue A. A. of Poughkeepsie Friday night but were unable to defeat the bridge city girls. The game ended 34 all.

SHAMROCK PLAY AT CATSKILL TONIGHT.

The fast stepping Shamrock quintet of this city will journey to Catskill tonight where it will take on the much heralded Crescents at the Y. M. C. A. The Kingston boys expect plenty of trouble from the Crescents but are ready to give the Greene county aggregation a battle that promises to be an interesting tilt.

Manager Ray Long will pick his players from the following Shamrock roster: Thomas, Kelly, Chipp, Townsend, Devas, Sener and Macdon.

SHOOTING STARS TO PLAY TONIGHT.

Tonight at Salvation Army Hall, North Front street, the Shooting Stars will take on the Trojans at 7 o'clock. They will put forth every effort to get back into the winning column after their recent defeat at the hands of the Catskill Crescents. The game promises to hold plenty of interest. The public is invited to attend the game.

CHANDLER TO PLAY TONIGHT.

The Chandlers are scheduled for court war with the Coburn Y. M. C. A. team at the local "Y" tonight at 8 o'clock. The teams have not met in years and tonight's tilt promises to be a very interesting one. A preliminary game will be played at 6 o'clock between the Y's Men and St. James Church team.

"Bubby" Jordan, evidently an advocate of the "day by day in every way I'm getting better and better" theory, broke his own single game record of 245 Monday night when he crashed the maples for 259 points in the first game he rolled for the Y. M. C. A. team against the Livingstons at the "Y" alleys. Jordan's outfit took three consecutive high scoring sessions from the Livingstons and thus assured themselves of winning the pennant in the City League. The "Y" can afford to lose the games they are yet scheduled to play.

Fanshwer, who helped the "Immanuel" team to take two out of three games from the Colonias at Immanuel alleys, spilled the pins for 445 points in the league this season. Bill Thiel, who has been going strong in several leagues this year, tally being 445.

The League bowlers took St. Peter's over in two out of three games staged at St. Peter's alleys. Monday night, Pete Spader of the League took the honors for rolling the highest single game and for having the biggest total.

Athletics Play Made Today.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 12 (P).—The bus-driving Athletics were back in baseball harness today, with a return game with the Cincinnati Reds on the afternoon program.

Brooklyn Rookie Is Making Good

THE Brooklyn Rookie made good with a bang his first year when he hit 339 and batted in 106 runs. While he played his first big league baseball last season, Del Blomette, the Brooklyn first baseman, has had a long and interesting career on the diamond. He was first signed by the Yankees last year when he was pitching for his school team up in Westport, Maine. At the tender age of sixteen, Del was signed by the Yankees. He was playing semipro ball up in that country two years previous to this eventful period in his career.

Del Blomette.

Later Del went to New Hampshire state college and then to Georgetown university. In 1921, just as he was about to realize on his pitching skill, he developed a sore arm and went back to the Maine woods. It did seem as though the big league career had vanished away even before its realization. But the next year he played in Montreal as an outfielder on a semipro team.

In 1922 he was signed by Cleveland and went South with the team. But that pitching arm still gave him trouble, so back he went to his Maine woods. He became manager of a ball team up there and played first base that season for the first time. Again he tried to pitch for Cleveland, and applied to Bonsett Reese to mend that crippled arm. But it was all in vain. So Blomette, the famous pitcher from Maine, became Blomette, first baseman for York of the Pennsylvania league. From there he went to Philadelphia of the New York league, and there his hitting attracted the attention of Larry Sutton, the Robin scout, and he was signed for Brooklyn. That was in 1925. He went South with the Robins the next year and farmed out to Jersey City. The next year he sowed base bits and reaped batting fame on the Buffalo farm.

Blomette himself sums up his baseball career in this cryptic and yet illuminating sentence: "I spent four years trying to cure a sore arm, and then I spent four more years learning to play first base, and I want to tell you that it takes just that long for a fellow to learn to play that bag."

The veteran rookie, Blomette, may combine fielding and hitting to that degree where he will press the best of them all for premier honors. Dan Brothers, Anson, Comiskey, Tenney, Jiggs Donohue, all left classics in first base play behind them, and Slater and Kelly were stars of a later day. Great first basemen who can hit are coming to be as rare as old fashioned girls, hence Blomette's unusual value to his team, for he is a first baseman of much promise.

Hornsby and Cuyler in Fine Physical Condition

At least two of the Cubs, and both are important members, will not need much more than a uniform and a glove to put themselves in playing trim at Catalina this season. One is Rogers Hornsby, the celebrated outfielder, and the other, Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler, who still is a more or less celebrated athlete despite his slump early last season. Both are cranks on physical condition.

Hornsby kept himself tough with farm chores and hunting on the Hornsby estate near St. Louis, and Cuyler played and coached basketball in his home town, Flint, Mich. Cuyler and Hornsby have something in common aside from their hitting ability. Both are total abstainers. The "Rajah's" big weakness is beef-steak—morning, noon, and night. Now that this is known, other athletes may adopt the diet on the theory that it might improve their hitting. Not long ago word went around the National league that one of the leading sluggers of the circuit ate a half-pint of ice cream before retiring. A lot of would-be hitters immediately did the same, but no improvement was noticed.

Horseshoe Champion

Helen Hicks, the youngster who won the Bermuda tournament, is one of the longest drivers in women's golf.

Every club in the Blue Ridge league, excepting Chambersburg, will have new managers. Mike Kellner keeps his job.

The American association is due to wind up its season September 20, while the International halts a week earlier.

Columbia Takes Court Honors

New York, March 12 (P).—With a pair of flashy sophomores, Columbia took first place in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League today, the major honors in the all-star team selections for 1934-35.

Columbia is the only team to gain more than a single place on the mythical quiver picked by the coaches of the six colleges in the league for the fourth straight year. The champion ship Pennsylvania has as well as Cornell and Dartmouth each land one man.

George Gregory, slender six-foot-three and one-half inch negro center, and Dave Smith, tenuous little guard, are the pair who give Columbia its representation on the all-league team since 1927. Incidentally they have the honor of being the only sophomores on the all-star array. The other three are veterans and each of them is captain of his team.

Joe Schaaf, Penn's dazzling basket shooter, lands a forward berth for the second successive season. Don Layton of Cornell, has been selected as his running mate, and Carl Spaeth captures a guard position for Dartmouth.

Following is the make-up of the teams based on their ballots, votes for each individual in brackets, being based on two points for first team and one point for second team.

First Team.
Joseph G. Schaaf, Penn. (12), forward; home, Philadelphia.
Donald Layton, Cornell. (7), forward; home, Montour Falls, N. Y.
George Gregory, Columbia. (8), center; home, New York.
Carl Spaeth, Dartmouth. (11), guard; home, Cleveland.

Second team.
David L. Smith, Columbia. (6), guard; home, Yonkers, N. Y.
Swarthout, Dartmouth. (3), forward; home, Dartmouth.
Cook, Yale. (4), center; home, Princeton.
Lazar, Penn. (tied with 4 each), guards.

MAC FAYDEN MADE GOOD FIRST YEAR

Danny MacFayden, bespectacled pitcher of the Boston Red Sox, ought to have a better record than he compiled in the season of 1933 when he won nine and lost fifteen games. There are few pitchers in the land that possess as good a curve ball as the youngster who graduated from Somerville high school only two or three years ago. But umpires declare Danny's curve will not always behave, it will not always go where Danny intends it shall. This lack of control is his handicap.

Danny, by the way, has been wearing glasses since he was twelve years old and he now is twenty-three. That means he was a bespectacled pitcher while in Somerville, Mass., playing for a high school team that had two other future big leaguers, Huskell Billings of the Detroit Tigers and Catcher Frank Hogan of the Glens.

Danny then was famed for his batting prowess and when he broke into the American league opposing pitchers said to themselves, "Can ease up now. Here's a kid pitcher at bat and wearing glasses, at that." But when the youngster came through with a batting average of more than .300 and came back in 1932 with one of .282, the pitchers changed their opinion of Danny and began to work on him with the result that MacFayden batted but .143 during the 1933 campaign.

MacFayden is a real down-easter, having been born at Provincetown, Cape Cod. His father died when he was only four years of age and Danny adopted baseball as a profession upon completing high school, figuring he should aid his mother, who was in the real estate business, in financing the family. His mother wanted him to go to Dartmouth, but Danny joined the Red Sox instead.

His first game was a tough assignment, as he was sent in against Walter Johnson. All Somerville turned out to see Danny pitch and he worked his best in an effort to win. He held Washington to six hits, but lost, 4 to 1. He had his revenge against Washington last year, however. Selected by Manager Carrigan to pitch the opening game in front of the big crowd at Washington, a crowd that included President Calvin Coolidge, he won, 8 to 5. Washington made three runs off him in the first inning and was almost helpless before his curves the rest of the route.

Overlooked Threw Best

The reason that soldiers were drilled to throw their hand grenades in a stiff overhand manner was that more chances could be gained in that way, and the motion of the upper arm would be less straining than they would have otherwise.

Effect of Water on Wood

The average life of wood in sea water is from ten to fifteen years. In tropical waters it may be only two years. Sound piles have, however, been removed from fresh water in which they have stood for more than 1,000 years.

ALL DOGS UNDERSTAND

"ANIMALS have so many sensible ways which people haven't at all," said Bruce, the dog.

"Not long ago a little girl came to see my mistress. She had been brought up abroad and she could not speak English.

"New my mistress and she looked at each other and tried to talk, each in her own way, but neither of them could understand the way of the other.

"It was different with the dog. This little girl had a pet dog and the dog and I understood each other at once."

Billie Brownie chuckled with amusement.

"But even though I am amused," he said, "I do think you have very sensible ways, you animals."

"Yes," continued Bruce, "I think so, too. The dog and I had a beautiful time. We talked in our dog way and

"Thanks," said Bruce, "for I hate to apologize if the truth must be known."

"It doesn't have to be known in this case," said Billie Brownie, "but I am glad to know it just the same."

"Ah yes, dog talk can be understood everywhere by other dogs, and dogs, too, can understand the language of grown-ups in whatever country they happen to be living in," continued Bruce.

"True, it does live in one country they understand what the grown-ups of that country talk, but if the grown-ups speak more than one language the dogs can understand it, too."

"I know a little girl who has a nurse and her dog can understand when spoken to in either of these languages."

"A dog can understand dog talk anywhere, though, as I have said several times. If a dog started to go travelling his friends would not say:

"'Now can you make yourself understood in that foreign talk the dogs you meet will speak? Do you know enough words to get along?'

"No, they do not have to say such things to us. Wherever we go it will be all right."

"Wherever cats go it is the same way. They can be as meow in one land and can be understood as well as in another."

"It is the same with all the different creatures save humans. Ah, poor, poor humans!"

"They'd be glad to know they have your sympathy," Billie Brownie said. "I'll have to tell them about it."

"Do," said Bruce, "if you think it will be any comfort to them."

"And now I must be off, Billie Brownie, I have an engagement down at the Dogs' Luncheon Bone club at noon. It is almost that now."

"We all make speeches and say that we think there is no other place like ours and yet we say we must keep on and make it the finest town for dogs in any place around."

"Ah yes, we do things besides being interested in our bones! We think of how we can improve our fine hometown and that's a splendid thing to do."

"But do tell the humans, if you think it will comfort them, that we do feel sorry for them when we think how many languages there are for them to know if they want to speak to people from other lands."

"And tell the children how sorry we are for them that they must study different languages instead of knowing one language as we dogs do—ah yes, tell them we send them our sympathy and an affectionate tail wagging."

"So Billie Brownie went off with his messages and Bruce, the dog, went to his Dogs' Luncheon Bone club. (Copyright.)

Why We Do What We Do
By M. K. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE HATE OURSELVES

SELF hate is not only possible; it is the worst kind of hate.

We live in a general when we fear the loss of some cherished possession. The degree of hate that we feel depends on how strongly we have attached ourselves to the thing that is taken from us or the degree of difference it makes in our life. The hate is directed toward the person or object responsible for our loss.

The function of hate is to kill and destroy or otherwise get rid of the cause for our misfortune and anguish of soul. Human beings react in this manner to objects as well as to persons; witness the common practice of kicking the door that one runs into in the dark.

In self hate we blame ourselves for robbing ourselves. The true self within, the one we really care for, rises up and condemns the lower nature or that part of us which is keeping the real self from realizing his aims.

We hate ourselves when we have no one else to blame for our folly. Actual self hate is of course very extreme and means the complete breakdown of morale and self respect. The result is suicide or at least some form of the inferiority complex.

Ordinarily we save ourselves from this fate by shifting the blame of our failure to hard luck or unfavorable circumstances or to some other person, anything or anyone but ourselves.

An ancient fable describes a man who was hard put to it for something to eat so he sold his clothes to buy food until he had disposed of everything except the undergarments and his overcoat. He chanced to see a bird of spring singing gaily and concluded that spring had come so he went and sold his overcoat. The next day it turned bitter cold. The unfortunate man went to see the bird of spring and found him on the ground dead and frozen stiff. He began to scold the poor bird, saying, "You are the cause of all my misfortune."

Watch Your Feet

Asked whether people about their stomachs or their feet the most, Dr. William S. Haller of the American Magazine replied unhesitatingly: "Their feet." He explained that people have had a little more packed into their heads about overeating and wrong eating, but precious little regarding their feet and their care.

Why Fish Get Away

"To go fishing," said H. H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is to serve notice that, even in the midst of public demonstrations, time is required for personal, serious thought, and this is why so many fish escape."—Washington Star.

Higher 'Phone Rates Favored

But Federal Court Must Pass on Report of Special Master—Phone Company President Promises Best Service at Lowest Cost Consistent With Financial Safety.

J. S. McCall, president of the New York Telephone Company, made the following statement today regarding the report submitted to the federal court for the southern district of New York by the special master, Isaac H. Oeland, who took the testimony in the company's injunction suit against the Public Service Commission.

"The report of special master Oeland in the New York Telephone Rate Case sustains the company's claim that the rates fixed by the Public Service Commission on May 25, 1926, of which it complains, are insufficient to yield an adequate return and, therefore, invalid. The master's findings support in general the principle for which this company has contended throughout one of the most searching examinations ever made into the affairs and service charges of a public utility.

"Judge Oeland was appointed by the United States District Court for the Southern District, New York, and began to take testimony on October 11, 1924. He held hearings from that date until September 10, 1925. The record includes 20,000 pages of testimony and 2,200 exhibits. Over 600 witnesses were called. Every possible detail bearing on the questions involved was brought out through examination conducted by representatives of the Public Service Commission, the attorney general of the state, the city of New York and the telephone company.

"The master's report will require confirmation by the court before it can become effective. Should the report be confirmed without modification some readjustment of the present rates will result. The extent of such readjustment and the particular rates that may be affected cannot of course now be determined as some time must elapse before the court acts finally upon the report. Obviously it would be improper for the company to comment further at this time in anticipation of the court's decision.

"However, in order to avoid any undue apprehension among our subscribers I may state that it is the company's policy to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety.

"The present rates are inadequate and do not provide a proper return, particularly when it is borne in mind that capital expenditures of upward of one hundred million dollars will be necessary each year for plant and equipment to care for the rapidly growing community and the public demand for continually improved service. In that connection it should be recalled that when the present rates were put into effect by the public service commission in July, 1926, two of the five commissioners held that the company was entitled to considerable more annual revenue than that yielded by the rates authorized by the other three commissioners who constituted the majority.

"In the best interests of our customers and ourselves, rates for telephone service should be low enough to permit the full use of the service but sufficient to provide a reasonable margin above the cost of furnishing such service. Whatever may be the outcome of this rate litigation it will be our policy to fix rates on this basis."

SHOKAN.

Shokan, March 12.—A card party will be held at Winchell's Hall Tuesday evening, March 19. Everyone is invited to come, bring their friends and enjoy a pleasant evening. Each lady is asked to furnish something toward refreshments. A collection will be taken which will go toward the drive for the Home for the Aged in Kingston.

Master John Adair, while coasting at school one day last week, fell from his sled and broke his wrist. The Ladies' Aid Society held a quilting at the home of Mrs. R. W. Longyear on Tuesday.

There was no school on Thursday and Friday of last week owing to the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Ellen Windrum.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank our friends and relatives for their many acts of kindness during the illness and death of my husband, also for the beautiful floral tributes.

Gov. Roosevelt Submits Plan

The home owner or industrial establishment.

Governor Roosevelt made detailed explanation why he opposed placing the matter of rate regulation with the Public Service Commission. In the last 27 years, he said, a series of court decisions, especially those of federal courts, have to a large extent nullified the protection originally intended for consumers through the Commission. Court rulings involving replacement value, good will, return on capital and other business made possible legal returns of as much as 50 or 100 per cent annually on the original investment. This, the Governor said, was why he sought a method by which to avoid the rate regulatory powers of the Commission.

Fixed Maximum Return on Investment.

"Those who have thoughtfully considered the matter," he said, "see but one way to protect the consumer and to prevent the exploitation of our waterpower again: That is, by fixing the principle of making the right to have power from the power station depend absolutely on a fixed maximum return on actual investment, with books kept in accordance with rules fixed and agreed upon in advance. This is one of the methods proposed in the House of Representatives for dealing with the Boulder dam project. It is neither Republican nor Democratic in principle; it is just a sound business method used in the public interest."

A proposed bill to provide for enactment into law of the Governor's program accompanied the message. The trustees would receive no salary, but $100,000 would be provided for expenses.

Alternative Courses.

"If these proposals become law," the Governor said, "we shall have the opportunity of ascertaining whether or not business and finance will accept this way of developing the state's resources for its industries, its commerce, and its homes. On the one hand is the policy of public ownership and control of our power sites, dams and power plants, with private operation of transmission lines and distributing systems, allowing a fair return on actual cash investment. On the other side is one of two courses—either exploitation by private interests or else public ownership and operation not only of the site, the dam, and the power, but of the transmission lines and distribution systems as well."

SCHOOLWOMEN'S CLUB HAS INTERESTING PARTY.

An occasion that will linger long in the hearts and minds of the members of the Schoolwomen's Club was a party on Thursday, March 7, at the gym of the high school.

During a short business session the plan for a hospital benefit fund for teachers was discussed. The teachers were reminded of the Federation card party to be held in the Stuyvesant Hotel on April 6.

The spring meeting of the Hudson Valley Schoolwomen's Club will be held Gold Spring on April 13. After playing unusual and interesting games, many of which were a test of skill and brought forth much merit, the teachers were served delicious refreshments.

The committee in charge through which the party was such a success was the president, Frieda Hayes; Marguerite Cordes, Rhea Burgett and Ethel Salzman.

Bieby Post of Marlborough to the recently organized Ladies' Auxiliary of the Post. Mrs. Ashby and Mrs. DuBois will attend the dinner on the invitation of the Commander Walter Baxter of the Marlborough Post. The newly elected officers will be installed that evening. Mrs. H. J. Cantata at First Reformed Church.

Mauder's cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace" which will be sung at the First Reformed Church Sunday evening was given last Sunday at the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas, Fifth Avenue and 48th Street, New York City. This is one of the large New York churches noted for its music and its presentation there is an evidence of the merit of the composition and of the esteem in which it is held as a Lenten Cantata.

"The Rock of Mr. Rock."

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Dutch Church will present a play, "The Rock of Mr. Rock," on March 22 at 8:15 o'clock in the lecture room of that church.

Jurists Discuss America In Court

Geneva, March 12 (AP).—The committee of jurists examining the question of American admission to the world court today discussed further formulae the trend of their conversations tending toward the position that the United States government should deal primarily and mainly with the council of the League of Nations on the problem of advisory opinions.

Several of the jurists insisted that there should be a clear distinction between the political and juridical aspects of the question, and thought there should be a clear understanding that the political side should be handled at Geneva.

Nicholas Politis, the Greek delegate, introduced a proposal based upon the formula of Elihu Root, the American jurist, which emphasizes this point and arranges for a swift consultation between Geneva and Washington to determine whether the American government has any objection to calling for an advisory opinion on a particular subject.

The noted Greek statesman thought that no one must lose sight of the fact that the privilege which the council possessed of asking advisory opinions is political in character and should not be interfered with or regarded when once in operation. Hence he wanted a quick consultation with Washington at the start rather than to await for the time when the court, having received a request for an opinion from the council, notified the United States and has received the American view.

Peace on Earth Belief of an Old French Race

The Basques of the Pyrenees section of France are an old race which has outlived the Roman empire, the Dark Ages, feudalism and monarchy. They are thrifty, hard-working farmers and fishermen with a simple system of very local democratic self-government. They are strong, simple, warm-hearted, physically sound and comely, and above all life-loving. While other races and social organizations around them have risen and fallen, they have never had a king, a tyrant, an aristocracy or a revolution. They seem to be very religious, and although they are hot-blooded and impulsive, they have never taken a single aggressive step against a neighbor in warfare.

Light Harmful to Medicine

Light which is so helpful to sick persons does not do their medicines any good. In fact so many of these deteriorate upon exposure to light that druggists have authorized a special study to discover containers which will protect their medicines and chemicals from the harmful light. In some cases light rays seem to preserve the medical virtues of a preparation, but in others they are definitely harmful. The changes which patients notice in the colors of medicines is usually indicative of change in the medical properties. The green color of some iron preparations changes to an unpleasant brown. Bright yellow ointments turn brown or green. Tinctures and drug extracts made from vegetable sediments. Serums and other biological products lose their ability to cure or prevent disease.

Fly Fishing in 200 A. D.

We are indebted to the Missouri Fish and Game News for the discovery that fly fishing is far from a modern sport. In the Second century of the Christian era, a Greek, Aelian, wrote as follows:

"I have heard of a Macedonian way of catching fish, and it is this: They fasten red wool around a hook and fit on to the wool two feathers which grow under a cock's wattle and are in color like wax. Their rod is six feet long, and the line is the same length. Then they throw their snare, and the fish, attracted and maddened by the color, comes up, thinking from the pretty sight to get a dainty mouthful; when, however, it opens its jaws, it is caught by the hook and enjoys a bitter repast, a captive."

Appointments by President

The President appoints, without consent of the congress, his private secretary and the librarian of congress. The President, with the concurrence of the senate, appoints about 16,000 persons a year. These include ambassadors, consuls, judges, collectors of customs, cabinet officials, district attorneys, marshals, territorial governors, postmasters of certain classes, treasurer of the United States, controller of the currency, superintendent of mines, commissioner of internal revenue, interstate commerce commissioners, mines, pensions, patents, Indian affairs, all bureau chiefs, all military and naval officers, and many others.

Equal Opportunity to Love

"I thought you rather liked Mr. Crumpler. You know he believes in equality for women."

"Yes," said Miss Ouyenne. "He goes too far in that idea to suit me. When he took me to the opera he insisted on watching coins to determine which of us was to pay for the tickets and the supper afterward."

Absolutely Notorious

Elderly Gentlemen (whispering to each other)—"Yes, this room pleases me, but I notice there's some sort of a manufacturing plant in the rear facing the street; doesn't it make considerable noise?"

Body of Murder Victim Identified by Killer

Ottawa, Ont.—The unusual procedure of calling on a prisoner, charged with murder, to identify the body of his victim, was invoked by Ottawa authorities recently as the means to the death of Victor Parrotta, shot to death by Bruno Massina, his brother-in-law.

After the jury had been sworn in it was found that there was no one to identify the dead man. Massina was summoned and, shocked to two detectives, he identified the body as that of Parrotta, whom he has admitted killing.

PARK GUIDE ROUTS BEAR WITH CLUB

Proves Theory That Only Grizzlies Are Feared.

Glacier Park, Mont.—Mike Shannon, veteran Glacier park cowboy guide, relates an amusing incident distinguishing between the fearful respect Westerners have for a grizzly and their utter disregard for the black species of the bear family. He says:

"Blattlesnake Slim" was one of our outfit. The name originally intended for him by his parents had long since been lost for all save legal purposes. He won his cognomen from two characteristics, viz: First, the cowboy build which he possesses to an unusual degree, six feet two inches and with no more hips than a rattlesnake, and, secondly, his sudden and unmediated way of doing the most reckless thing that comes into his head—just like a rattlesnake.

"On the occasion I recite Slim and half a dozen guides had started from the chalets at Granite park to a place several hundred yards up the mountain, where they rolled their beds under some scrub pines, near the corral. The night was dark, except for stars, and halfway up the trail Slim, who was in the lead, suddenly noticed an unusually large bear directly ahead.

"Well, boys, if it's a grizzly, he holds the trail," he volunteered as he advanced to within ten feet of the animal. The rest of the guides were following cautiously. They were all prepared to make a hasty detour for the bristles rose on the bear's neck as he turned to meet them.

"But Slim felt around on the ground till he picked up a good-sized limb of a fir tree, and with a wild yell, 'It's only a black bear, I can't go round,' he charged the beast, hitting it a two-handed whack across the shoulders. Slim was right. It was only a black bear! The frightened animal fairly tore up all the trees on the side of the mountain in making its get-away."

Poem Betrays Robber Into Police Custody

Moscow.—A scribbled poem was the only clue found by the police in inspecting the scene of a robbery here. And the robber has been caught.

The railroad worker whose home was robbed denied having written that or any other verse. Moreover, the handwriting was not his. It had apparently been dropped by the bandit in making off with the loot.

Some days later the authorities raided a hut in the forest near Moscow, where an eccentric person had set up house. The suspect, Dmitri Chinenkoff, said that he was only a poet, living as inexpensively and as quietly as possible, away from the turmoil of the city.

A search netted a great stack of manuscript, poems long and short. It also netted a great deal of prosaic goods for which the criminal police had been searching, among them the things stolen from the railroad worker. Confronted with the scribbled poem found in the robbed home, Chinenkoff proudly claimed ownership.

Unfortunately the press account is based upon police information which fails to provide any critical judgment on the merits of Chinenkoff's poetry.

Kills Pet Cat and Dog and Then Ends His Life

Middletown, N. Y.—Henry Litts, sixty, committed suicide near Narrowsburg, after killing a pet cat and a hunting dog to make sure they would not suffer after his death. Litts took his shotgun, led his dog off into a patch of woods near his home and shot the animal.

Then he returned to the house, carefully put the gun back in its case, took his tiger cat in his arms and, after caressing it, went to the back yard and strangled it to death.

When darkness came Litts retired to his room upstairs, soon after which a shot was heard. Breaking open the door, members of the household found Litts dying on the floor, having fired the full charge from the gun into his throat. Some years ago his wife left him, and he had been dependent at times since her departure. He had no regular occupation.

Fire Burns School

Regina, Sask.—Fire which swept through an Indian school at Pelly, Saskatchewan, drove 100 children and 10 teachers into a temporary refuge of 22 degrees below zero. The school, valued at $200,000, was destroyed.

The A. & P. Tea Company, which removed its store from 41 North Front street to 336 Wall street, where the former E. S. Craft & Son store was situated, will open at the new site on Wednesday. The store comprises a complete grocery and meat market.

Move Troops To Guard Water

Army would not fight but would surrender.

Retreat to Chihuahua would only postpone disaster for General Escobar, these persons held, few believed the limited rebel army—believed at best to number only 5,000 men—would be able to withstand onslaught of 15,000 men under General Calles.

Rebel Officers Surrender.

Events of yesterday bolstered optimism. Between Canitas and Durango City the Federal General Rodrigo Quevedo caught up with the rebel General Francisco Urbalejo, a hundred and thirty-five of his followers surrendered, leaving him with only a few followers, with whom he escaped. Among those surrendering were Lieutenant Colonel Luis B. Duenas and nine other officers.

At Santa Lucrécia, Southern Vera Cruz, General Alejandro Manjé, from the Tehuantepec area, received the voluntary unconditional surrender of General Simon Aguirre, brother of General Jesus M. Aguirre, leader of the revolt in Vera Cruz.

Twelve other ranking officers and thirteen soldiers surrendered with Aguirre. The prisoners were taken to August, Vera Cruz, to await court martial. Troops continued close pursuit of General Jesus M. Aguirre, who was said to have but two men with him.

Surrender of these officers and of the only remaining large contingent of rebel troops in Vera Cruz at Juana yesterday definitely removes the south from the revolt.

Conditions in Northern Mexico.

In the north, however, aside from the minor movement against Durango, the federal activities had three phases, one of them not at all clear. There was of course the general offensive against Torreon by General Calles, who may reach the Coahuila city either today or tomorrow.

A government statement said General Huan Andreu Almazan was leaving Monterey for an offensive against Saltillo. The wording of the statement indicated a body of rebel troops was operating in that district. Almazan had been previously reported even as occupying Saltillo, which is the capital of Coahuila but rather far removed from other rebel activity in the state.

Official announcements said a rebel advance guard of 400 or 500 of the army of General Roberto Cuellar had reached Quila, south of Cuernavaca, and was continuing its advance toward Mazatlan, west coast seaport held by General Jaime Carrillo.

Harbord Suggests Short Campaigns

New York, March 12 (AP).—A proposal for short presidential campaigns instead of the usual long drawn out quadrennial fights was made today by General James G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America.

Declaring that the prolonged months of presidential balloting is only a survival of the limitations of stage coach days, he suggested that the national committee of the two major parties by deferring convention dates could shorten to six weeks or less the prevailing length of campaigns with its consequent "demoralization and interruption" of business and heavy expenses.

In the shorter campaign the candidates would make a few carefully prepared speeches over the radio.

YOUTH HANGED FOR MURDER OF SWEETHEART'S MOTHER

Liverpool, March 12 (AP).—Joseph Reginald Victor Clarke, known as "the boy with a hundred sweethearts" was hanged this morning for the murder of Mrs. Alice Fontaine, the mother of one of his sweethearts. Clarke kept his boast to his jailers that he would face death bravely and assisted them at the scaffold.

Clarke was 21 years old and well educated, having had a brilliant school career in England. He visited his mother in Virginia when he was 16, and spent a year at Princeton University before returning to England.

He studied psychology and hypnosis, police said, and then began to entangle many women, in the case of Mrs. Fontaine he boarded with her rent free while he courted her daughter. He fled her of her life savings and then killed her.

PRESBYTERIANS TO ABSTAIN FROM BUYING LIQUOR

Nashville, Tenn., March 12 (AP).—A movement described by its promoters as destined to be "national" was begun here last night when 66 members of the First Presbyterian Church Men's Club signed a resolution pledging themselves to abstain from buying liquor.

Action followed a sermon delivered Sunday by Dr. James I. Vance, pastor, who endorsed President Hoover's stand on the Eighteenth amendment.

The resolution, signed last night, reads: "I hereby promise my God, my Country and my own soul neither to purchase nor procure liquor in violation of the law."

Elkie Joins Improved.

Paris, March 12 (AP).—The condition of Elsie Janis, American stage star, was said to be somewhat improved this morning after a reasonably good night at the American Hospital, where she was removed from her hotel last yesterday.

Ulster Park Willing Workers.

The regular meeting of the Willing Workers of the Ulster Park Reformed Church will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Berry Friday, March 15, at 2:30 p. m.

LATEST NOVELTY IN TRAFFIC SIGNALS

The latest to be brought out in the line of traffic signals is one which can be operated from a button placed conveniently in the supporting post. It is particularly adapted to crossings near schools where one of the children, acting as a monitor, can press the button and thus assure a safe crossing for herself and schoolmates.

PROFICIENCY OF BOYS IS COUNTED

Marks Help Advancement in School.

Edward J. Tobin, Cook county (Ill.) superintendent of schools, has announced that the proficiency of members of the schoolboys' patrol will be graded and that mark will be considered in their advancement from grade to grade as much as their standing in arithmetic and other studies.

Patrol Fostered by Club.

Mr. Tobin made the statement after a conference with representatives of the accident prevention department of the Chicago Motor club, which for nine years has fostered the patrol as a means of preventing traffic accidents among school children.

"Education should comprise 'practical' instruction, as well as knowledge from books," explained Mr. Tobin. "Members of the school boys' patrol are selected because of their qualities of character, manliness and leadership. They stand at corners in the vicinity of schools before and after the classes, and assist their classmates and younger pupils across the streets during lulls in traffic. They must be on duty for at least a total of an hour a day, outside of their school hours. Their work as a member of a patrol is bound to give them a broader knowledge of taking care of themselves and others, and I believe they should be given tangible credit for efficient performance of this task."

Part of Achievement Course.

Under the new plans, the patrol becomes a part of the achievement course of the county schools. This course comprises 22 projects, such as the study of music, agriculture, live stock and similar subjects. Each pupil must enroll for one or more subjects. Boys who aspire to membership on a patrol must be nominated and approved by the other members of his particular achievement course, the teacher and the director of education. Patrol members must serve 30 weeks in order to obtain a mark, which will be determined by the teacher, the director of education and the accident prevention department of the Chicago Motor club.

Mr. Tobin recently asked the Motor club to assist him in placing a patrol in every school under his jurisdiction. The members of these patrols are supplied with white Sam Browne belts and badges by the club without charge.

Spring Control Devices Require Good Attention

Occasionally mechanical or frictional spring control devices will need attention, just as any other useful accessory on the car.

If you're not positive that they need attention, however, there is a way to decide the point without wasting a lot of time. Take off the instrument that is the most likely to be in need of attention.

This is always the rear one nearest the exhaust pipe. It becomes heated and is certain to give trouble in time if any grease is used in its mechanism.

The heat thins this grease and tempts it to work out where it doesn't belong.

In the case of some devices it renders them useless until taken off and cleaned. Obviously if the hardest working device is all right there is little point in touching the other three.

Speech and Performance

"I have said many wise things," said Mr. Ho, the sage of Chinatown. "For it is the custom of leisurely civilization to make speech take the place of performance."—Washington Star.

New Automobile Safety Device Is Quite Helpful

Faulty Spark Plugs Are Cause of Motor Missing

When an automobile engine misses at high speed or in climbing hills the trouble can often be traced to the spark plugs, according to engineers.

Much of this trouble, they say, is due to the spark plug points being set too far apart or because the plugs are worn out.

The gap between the points should not have more than .025-inch clearance or .020-inch in high-compression engines.

As spark plug trouble is often mistaken for valve or piston-ring trouble, the proper thing to do before making repairs, the engineers say, is to have the plugs inspected, which will save unnecessary expense.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

Better to ride slow in an auto than fast in an ambulance.

There are two sides to everything, but in motoring, keep to the right side.

Reckless drivers who fail to observe the "Stop" sign are on their way to a "Go" funeral.

"Get a new body and have your top repaired," says an advertisement. Don't you wish you might?

San Antonio, Texas, has one of the latest union terminals for bus lines to be erected. It was built at a cost of $300,000.

Front-wheel bearings are benefited greatly by semiannual baths. It is well twice a year to remove, clean, grease and adjust them. The clearing process is most successful if a stiff brush and gasoline are used.

Children's Colds

Best Treated Externally

THAT's why modern mothers prefer Vicks—it cannot upset delicate stomachs. Rubbed on throat and chest, it acts two ways at once:

- (1) Its healing vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled direct to the air passages;
- (2) It "draws out" the soreness like an old-fashioned poultice.

Honeymoon Has Tragic Ending

March 12 (AP). The honeymoon of Kathleen Burke McLean, wartime "Angel of France," was turned into a scene of mourning today because of the death of her husband, Colonel John McLean, who was killed in action.

Colonel McLean, who on March 2 was married to the former Kathleen Burke McLean, died here last night from injuries received in an automobile accident Sunday.

His former husband was the late Frederick F. Peabody, millionaire oil manufacturer, who was injured slightly in the accident.

The tragic ending of the honeymoon came while Colonel and Mrs. McLean were returning to Montecito from Del Monte, where they had gone after the wedding.

After a week of festivities planned for them by their friends in Montecito, the couple planned to visit President Hoover in Washington and then to sail for Italy to spend a season before going to Argentina, where Colonel McLean had valuable mining interests.

Colonel and Mrs. McLean were in the rear seat of the family automobile driven by James Irwin, chauffeur, when Irwin attempted to pass a truck on the highway and a sedan driven by J. Herbert Evans of Mather, Pa., suddenly appeared and in an instant the McLean car crumpled under the impact of a head-on collision.

Colonel McLean was 41 years old. During the World War he commanded the 267th Infantry. After the armistice he returned to his profession of mining engineering.
